

Traditional Medicine Preparation

The Art and Science of Ayurvedic Formulations

Introduction

At NK Ayurveda, we continue the ancient tradition of preparing authentic Ayurvedic medicines using time-tested methods passed down through generations since 1946.

Historical Methods

Traditional Ayurvedic medicine preparation follows strict guidelines from classical texts. Our methods include:

- Careful selection and authentication of raw herbs
- Proper harvesting times based on lunar cycles
- Traditional processing techniques (Shodhana)
- Classical formulation methods from ancient texts
- Natural fermentation and maturation processes

Quality Controls

We maintain rigorous quality standards:

- Organic cultivation using Jeevamrutham manure
- Home-grown herbs for maximum potency
- Small batch production for quality over quantity
- Traditional testing methods
- Proper storage in appropriate containers

Our In-House Manufacturing

NK Pharmacy has been manufacturing medicines since its inception. Our facility combines traditional wisdom with modern hygiene standards. We prepare:

- Classical preparations: Rasayanas, Churnas, Avalehas
- Proprietary formulations developed by our vaidyars
- Fresh preparations as per patient needs

Sustainability

We are committed to sustainable practices, growing many herbs in our own gardens and sourcing others from trusted organic suppliers. This ensures the purity and potency of our medicines while protecting the environment.
